

September
2012

Friday 21st, 6 pm
Saturday 22nd, 10 am

UNH Observatory
Spinney Lane
Durham, NH
(west end of campus)

- ### Explore Starry Wonders Both Day and Night
- Gaze at the sun safely
 - Explore our galaxy through dozens of different telescopes
 - Discover what UNH space scientists are unveiling
 - Make your own sundial, moon phase clock, planisphere, and more
 - Watch a live weather balloon launch
 - Learn from experts and participate in hands-on demonstrations
 - Play astronomy games
 - Find a telescope that works for you
 - Ask an astronomer
 - Enjoy food and refreshments
 - Immerse yourself in the universe

- ### Friday September 21 starting at 6 pm
- Keynote astronomy lecture by Dr. Alex Filippenko, Professor of Astronomy at UC Berkeley, famous for his appearances on The Universe series on the History Channel
 - Join us for observing after dark
 - Light concessions available for purchase through 10 pm

- ### Saturday September 22 starting at 10 am
- Astronomy for kids: check our website for times and activities
 - Safe solar viewing
 - Telescope clinics and demonstrations
 - Astronomy talks
 - Sky observing all day and night
 - Lunch and dinner available for purchase, light concessions until 10 pm

Dr. Alex Filippenko

Learn more:
physics.unh.edu/observatory/NEFAF
 Visit the website for parking and accessibility questions, weather updates, and a complete listing of participating organizations.

NEFAF Website

FREE
 Admission
 (Donations welcome)

